CELEBRATION BOARD IS LEGISLATIVE PROPOSAL

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, March 10.—Assemblyman Frank B. Metcalf, Milwaukee, has a plan for the creation of a general state executive committee, to take charge of the formal dedication of Wisconsin's $7,000,000 capitol building, and to oversee the holding of peace celebrations and homecoming welcomes for returning soldiers.

The committee shall be composed of the governor, the lieutenant governor, the secretary of state, the state treasurer, the superintendent of public instruction, the speaker of the assembly, a member of the capitol building commission, the superintendent of the state historical society, the state engineer, the president of the University of Wisconsin, and three senators and five assemblymen to be appointed by the presiding officer of each house. The bill also provides an appropriation of $3,000 to a guarantee fund to be used to meet any deficit that may grow out of any of the contemplated celebrations.

He believes that to help cover the expenses of peace and homecoming celebrations, which may be held under the supervision of the committee in cities of this state, it might be possible to get a German submarine for exhibition and inspection purposes.

Dies Overseas

Rhinelander, March 10.—Word was received here announcing the death of Charles E. Saxe, a Rhinelander boy with the army of occupation. Saxe, who was 24 years of age, died of pneumonia. He was a member of a Sanitary corps in the 10th engineers.

MARKETING BILLS AND NOLAN'S SUFFRAGE MEASURE TO COME UP

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, March 10.—The big hearing at this week's session of the legislature will be on the two bills relating to the establishment of a marketing commission. A compromised measure will probably be worked out as a result of the hearing scheduled for Thursday afternoon in the assembly parlors.

The special legislative committee has presented a bill creating a market bureau under the supervision of the state commissioners of agriculture. This official would be appointed by the commissioners of agriculture. The majority farmers' bill was presented in the lower house by Assemblyman J. C. Hanson of Dane county. It would create a commission of three members appointed by the governor. One member must be a farmer and one must be a laboring man. The legislature would have power to remove a commissioner by a vote of lack of confidence.

The Nolan bill asking for a submission of the question of state-wide suffrage to the people will be heard by the elections committee on Tuesday. Under a bill recently passed and signed by the governor women of Wisconsin may vote in presidential elections. If the people approve the suffrage it would permit the woman to vote in state and municipal elections.

The joint committee on education will hold hearings Wednesday on the Hood bill exempting soldiers, sailors and marines honorably discharged from service from paying tuition fees for admission to the university and the normal schools.

Several important measures come up for consideration before the finance committee this week. A hearing will be given to the Kandutsch bill exempting from taxation for a period of years improvements made by settlers in wild, cut-over land.

The judiciary committee of the house will give a hearing Wednesday on the Bennett resolution asking for a legislative investigation on packing industries of the state. The transportation committee, Wednesday will give a hearing to the Metcalfe resolution asking for government ownership of railroads. It will also have a hearing to the Petrie bill prohibiting the use of the one-man street cars.

The Skogmo bill, which would abolish the office of town assessor and create the office of county assessor will be heard by the senate committee of corporation on Tuesday.

EX-SOLDIER FREED BY JUDGE MAXFIELD

John Carter, aged 47 years and born in the state of Iowa, who braved the shot and shell of the Germans as a member of the Canadian army, was dismissed by Judge Maxfield in the municipal court this morning when he was arraigned to answer a charge of intoxication.

Although far beyond the draft age, Carter desired to fight for democracy and enlisted as a private in the Canadian army. He spent 10 months overseas and returned to this country, suffering from German gas.

He told the judge that he was awaiting his money from the Canadian officials and that he then wanted to go to Rochester, Minn., for treatment.

Martin Olson was born in Norway and when he gets full of fight he wants to fight. Saturday night he started a free-for-all engagement at the Seagull depot and during the bataille was knocked through a glass door.

Olson was given a severe lecture by Judge Maxfield and fined $25 and costs or 30 days.

Lt. Sherman to Address Employed Boys Tonight

Lt. George Sherman will tell of his war experiences at the meeting of the employed boys' club at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 this evening. Lieutenant Sherman as a member of the Royal Flying corps saw several months of active service.

Robert J. Cunningham will give a lesson talk on "Nature." The meeting is being held this evening on account of numerous other activities in the city. Wednesday, the regular meeting night.

Notice: The regular meeting of the W. R. C. will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. All members please be present. Hattie Marsden, Pres., Elmwood Winslow, Secy.

Speakers Of National Prominence Address Sunday Audiences At Janesville Churches

Janesville churchgoers were specially favored yesterday by being able to hear speakers of national renown.

Dr. W. H. Foulkes, at the Federated church, Miss Anna Johnson at the Trinity, and Bishop Webb at the Trinity, all spoke well and favorably throughout over the country and each brought a message inspiring in its nature and helpful to those who heard them.

Dr. Foulkes has been chairman of the Sustentation fund of the Presbyterian church for a number of years. Just recently he has been made chairman of the New Era movement, and being in this neighborhood was secured for an address before the Federated church.

DR. FOULKES TALKS

Dr. Foulkes spoke at 7:30 o'clock just evening taking as his topic "The Church of the Times."

Dr. Foulkes magnified the various church programs launched by the innovations to meet the challenge of the new day. He especially spoke in glowing terms of the Interchurch movement of North America and heartily encouraged the local church on the experiment of federation for better results.

He stated that churches could not come together by comparing creeds at the top but around the table of their common community and national program of work where they could apply the practical.

The speaker gave in a masterful way the picture of a rising people, with the expression of the inevitable swelling floods of democracy; Bolshevism born in secular interests, the great movements of all the churches stirred by Christian idealism. He declared we must have either one or the other. We must choose.

Dr. Foulkes held the audience in wrapped attention. He pictured the single moment of Bolshevism and called the role of the obstacles in economic feud and injustice which the church must remove to make democracy Christian.

He emphatically declared that these obstacles could not be removed by provided protectionism. He said, "This must be done by ecologists at the top working over the supposed differences about the table of community tasks in the community."

Dr. Foulkes closed with a story of the ace who finding himself between two hostile war planes, thought not of safety, but how he might get out of both. This he did by dashing into a cloud as if making for safety and so catching his pursuers off guard and so straight back to the earth. The climax of the address was the impersonal declaration that the church must have like spirit. It cannot meet the needs of the day with a selfish air to save itself. It must forget its pride and provincialism and traditional ease and give itself to doing sacrificial service to the Federated choir sang "The Sheen at the Hold"; George Wallace sang "O Waiting Heart."

At five o'clock Dr. Foulkes spoke in an informal way before members of the church in the parlors. He spoke of the co-operation of all the churches in this movement and the fact that it was not confined to any one denomination. About 25 people were present from Beloit to hear Dr. Foulkes and took part in the meeting. A light lunch was served to about 75 people after the address and an informal hour of social enjoyment was passed together before the evening address.

BISHOP WEBB IN SERMON

The confirmation service of the Episcopal church conducted last evening for a class of seven candidates by Bishop William Walter Webb Milwaukee, who is head of this Episcopal diocese. The list consisted of Robert Hendrickson, Josephine Lyndall Douglas, Carlfield, William Mills, Cornelia Shoemaker, Mrs. Blaikie and Howard Wade. The bishop gave a few explanatory remarks on the meaning of the ceremony of confirmation, showing that it signified not the taking of the applicant into the church as that was done in baptism, not the renewal of their vows of allegiance to the church, as that might be done as that was done in baptism, not the ceremony when the members are more babies but confirming the souls of the people by the laying on of the bishop's hands in some real and definite way.

An earnest sermon on the symbolism of the cross was preached by the bishop.

He showed that the cross was the standard of faith, the same as the flag was the symbol of the country for which it was raised. He drew on the many passages of scripture of the old testament in which the cross was mentioned and how its meaning was ever in the mind of Christ.

"All the sacraments were based upon it," he said, "and all sacrifices made in its spirit and name." He spoke of the fact that the Red Cross symbolized the love of God for humanity, and that the sacrifice of Christ on the cross for an ideal was ever in the minds of the soldiers fighting in France. He instanced the pithy pleasure which the soldier took in having a little metal cross in their hands when ill unto death in the army cantinons, and also showed how some great general, a powerful emperor and a world wide novelist, all testified to the influence of the cross upon their lives.

He recommended patience as one of the crosses to be taken up so that the tremendous problems of life might be solved. In presenting his address he gave some wise and kindly counsel to the parish, and recommended that they redouble their efforts with the Sunday school and also inform themselves on religious topics by taking some of the religious papers.

Splendid music was furnished by the surprise choir of 20 boys, reinforced by about 20 young women. Mrs. Faith Dearborn sang a hymn as an offertory number, and Rev. Henry Willman read the regular service.

The bishop opened a class of 12 in Beloit and preached a sermon at 10:30 o'clock, and also preached in the college chapel at 4 o'clock. The one in which he left Beloit was delayed so that he arrived somewhat late at the Trinity service, but the waiting was filled in with singing and familiar hymns.

MISS CRISSMAN SPEAKS

A stirring message freighted with optimism and good cheer, was brought to the attendants of the Baptist church yesterday morning by Miss Helen Crissman, who is working in the interest of the victory campaign of that organization. In a humorous vein she referred to the fact that she was working for a $6,000,000 corporation which was trying to do a big business for Christ.

She gave a general resume of the outlook on missionary fields at the present time. She noted the fact that millions of Hindoos, thousands of coolies, tribes from West Africa, people from Australia had been fighting side by side with their Christian brothers during the past four years, and she said that when these native soldiers went back home they would wish to have their women and children educated as they were in a Christian land.

She felt that "people should have a new interpretation of church patriotism and be prepared to go over the top, for Christ, that the world had too long emphasized the gentle precepts of Jesus, and too much neglected the iron test of courage."

In speaking of the outlook on the foreign mission field she said that in Japan, in the districts where there were coming into the protestant denominations about 10,000 converts a month. The new Union Women's college at Tokyo had just been opened, she said. "With an application of 500 pupils for entrance, in China the work of the 100 missionaries had been directed toward taking care of the present field, but things were very encouraging as several officials, notably the vice premier of Japan, became interested and were assisting in the work."

In India she said there were 150 walled cities in which there was not a single Christian individual. In India there was great need of nurses and women physicians to take care of women and children.

In the problem of Americanization she found a large field for the Home Missionary work in trying to educate the foreign born and make of them true American citizens. She pointed to the danger of Mormonism getting a strong hold on the country, and said that it had grown alarmingly since the beginning of the war.

In closing she called attention to the personal call which was given to her by Justice M. B. Rosenberry, and said that the Christian would want no other crown than a larger share in the consummation of the work. The musical part of the program was continued by the chorus, chanted by Mrs. Alice Thomas, Miss Margaret McLay gave a sympathetic interpretation of "Abide With Me."

Rev. Raymond Pierson presided and preached a sermon to the children on "Things That are Catching."

In the evening Miss Cressman gave an address especially intended for the young women who are interested in missionary work. She is held working for the World War guild and so is Miss Winifred Cheney contributed to the pleasure of the evening by whistling some old time favorites, like "Perfect Day" and "Old Black Joe" with an encore number "My Little Pickaninny Coon."

A women's quartet consisting of Mrs. Allen Thomas, Lorene Eller, Lorraine Bowerman and Olive Pope sang "O Shepherd of Israel". The Methodist choir sang several selections and led in community singing.

JANESVILLE BOYS FIGHTING AT FINISH

Sergeant Robert Clithero, a member of the supply company of the 12th Infantry, 43rd division, has written a letter from Ettebuck, Luxembourg describing the movements of the division since the day the armistice was signed.

There are many Janesville boys in the division most of them being transferred from Camp Grant to the Prairie division. Sergeant Clithero states in his letter that the men were in the fight until the last and went over the moon the morning that the armistice was signed. His letter follows:

Ettebuck, Luxembourg, February 11, 1919.

Daily Gazette:

Just a few lines from one who reads your columns each day with great interest.

As many boys from dear old Janesville are in the third division and I don't see much of them in the papers, I thought these few lines might be interesting.

We were in the fight up to the last day. Our boys went over the top on the morning of November 11 and how glad we were when we found that it was all over. What a quietness that day after the eleventh hour, how much we celebrated, can't tell here.

On December 1 we were still on the line and it was ten days long. We were glad of it now as we think we are better off there than any of the A. E. F. troops.

People are very good to us in the way of giving good rooms and beds. They heard we were to leave the last of January and such sad people you never saw. The boys are strong and shooting and athletics are kept up and many good shows staged by the many bands.

We long however to move again and only one place will satisfy us all. We look each day for our name in the lists for embarking but guess it will be late in the spring for us.

Best wishes to all old friends and

Sergeant Robt. M. Clithero,
Supply Co., 12th Inf.

FINANCING OF ROAD PROGRAM LOOMS BIG

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, March 10.—One of the important problems looming up before the present legislature is the financing of Wisconsin's future road program under the new federal road act. The federal aid to the states, which under the original bill is $75,000,000, was increased in the sum of $200,000,000. Under the new bill allotment is increased $6,000,000 in the next two years.

Suggestions that the state meet the new $6,000,000 allotment by what some of the county board members call "passing the buck," are meeting with much opposition. One suggestion is that the state withhold the one quarter of the motor license fees now being returned to the counties, which will amount to about $600,000 in this fiscal year, and another is that the state impose a personal property tax on motor vehicles, which would go into the treasury of the local unit and increase the license fee to $15 or $20, to go into the state fund. Either of these suggestions involves the levying of additional local road taxes.

In China, she said there were 150 walled cities in which there was not a single Christian individual. In India there was great need of nurses and women physicians to take care of women and children.

In the problem of Americanization she found a large field for the Home Missionary work in trying to educate the foreign born and make of them true American citizens. She pointed to the danger of Mormonism getting a strong hold on the country, and said that it had grown alarmingly since the beginning of the war.

In closing she called attention to the fact that the road tax was not decreased whatsoever, but that it was simply unloaded on the counties, instead of the state taking care of its share.

The Gazette Stands Ready to Support all Endeavor to Make Janesville and Vicinity a Bigger and Better Community.

A BIRD CLUB.

Why not form a club for the study of birds? There is no more fascinating, interesting and alluring study. Immediate steps should be taken by those interested so that the organization can be perfected before the birds migrate from the sunny south. The migratory birds remain with us but a short time.

There are several men and women in this community who would be glad to give talks on birds, take parties out into the woods and aid in the study of the habits of the feathered creatures.

Youngsters should know about birds. They should be taught to protect them. Without the little feathered songsters this would indeed be a dreary world.

They should be taught to know the different birds and where they are to be found. Let them learn how to distinguish them by their songs. It is possible let the children see the nests and how they are built and the material used. What for instance can be more interesting than to find a Goldfinch's nest perched in some hazel brush, nicely made of thistle down, or the Baltimore Oriole's nest similarly constructed but of green grass, and when dried conforms to the color of the trees?

In another column of the Gazette will be found a coupon which may be filled out by those who are interested in forming a bird club. The children are especially invited, although grown persons would be welcome.

THE ANSELL CASE.

Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell, who had courage enough to bring to the attention of the public the injustice of the army court martial system and the code of military jurisprudence, has been demoted. This will not please the American people's sense of right.

Secretary Baker's statement that Ansell was reduced for reasons other than his opposition to an unjust and medieval system will not get by. The coincidence is too striking. The American people believe that Ansell was demoted because he has made a just fight on an unjust system.

This is another example of glaring inefficiency on the part of Secretary Baker.

Much sympathy with the viewpoint of Senator Chamberlain, democratic chairman of the committee on military affairs, has been publicly expressed. He made every effort to obtain legislation during the session of the congress just closed which would reform the administration of military justice. Referring to the demotion of Gen. Ansell he said:

"I think it a grave mistake. There is nothing that brings the army into greater disrepute than to demote men who have undertaken resolutely to discharge public duty. If the war department is going to adopt the practice of punishing men who tell the truth, God help the war department and the country, because the American people will not stand for it."

The true friends of the United States army, the patriotic Americans who want to see it become an organization which red-blooded youths will be glad to enter, even in peace times, are much disturbed over the demotion of Ansell. Not so much because of the unjust punishment of an individual, but because of the state of affairs which such conduct on the part of his superiors reveals. Had Ansell been promoted instead of demoted, a far better impression would have been made upon the country.

GROW FLOWERS.

We are planning many things for Janesville. New homes are to be erected, new stores will be opened, factories will soon start operations, business men are preparing to remodel their places to take care of increased trade. A city planner comes this week to tell us how to lay out the city for the future. Many have given assurance that they will "paint up" as soon as weather permits. Janesville is going to put on a new dress this spring.

Most attention is being directed to the business end of the preparations. Things will be done to attract those who will engage in trade. While we are "sprucing up" let's go one step farther this year and grow flowers.

When we put in our Victory gardens this spring, let us save space for flowers in both the back and front yards. Put in a garden of flowers so that visitors to the city as well as those who live here will have the benefit of well-ordered posie beds. It will not only give healthful exercise to the women who take care of them, but it will afford much pleasure for the whole community.

Many a corner of the yard or strip along the walk which have been unattractive in past summers can be turned into beauty spots through a little work and with a few flower seeds.

CENTRAL HITCHING PLACE. Farmers who come to Janesville to trade should have a central hitching place. Although many of our rural citizens use automobiles, horses still play an important part in drawing produce to market and with the streets occupied for the most part by autos, the horse-drawn vehicles are crowded away from the business district much to the inconvenience of those who come here to trade.

The Chamber of Commerce would gain the gratitude of the farmers if they would take immediate steps to provide a convenient location where teams could be left while patrons of the stores transacted business.

When you make up your Victory garden seed budget, include a few nasturtiums, poppies, hollyhocks, old-fashioned pinks, petunias, forget-me-nots, sweet peas, phlox or any others that are your favorites. You will be repaid for the effort.

Lawrence College young women have formed a secret society, the main object of which seems to put the practice of kissing out of business. It is planned that sisters of the sorority shall greet each other without the customary lip-smack. However, the rules only govern the greetings between girls. You should worry, fellows!

Future generations in West Virginia will perhaps experience many chills if the plan of the legislature works out. A move has been started to place in the archives of the state a quart each of bourbon, rye and Scotch whiskey to be preserved. The only drawback would appear to be the expense which will have to be met for maintaining a strong guard for the maintaining a strong guard for the Legislators who are seeking the opportunity to promote the welfare of those who work for a living should heed the pleading of school teachers for an increase of minimum salaries in schools which receive state aid. School teachers need all the pay they can get.

Indiana legislators are concerned over the declaration that there is a provision in the state election law which provides that eight inches of the voter's legs must be visible while the ballot is being marked. frantic efforts are being made to locate the provision. Women vote in Indiana.

Poultry dealers have passed a resolution to prevent traffic in bad eggs. If they can catch out the scheme and get it to working they will gain the eternal confidence and respect of a long-suffering public.

This is the kind of weather that makes one think of the old automobile that has been idle during the winter. Those who do not purchase the new spring models will begin to tinker around the "old boat," getting it ready for the season's performance.

Have you made plans for building a needed home for those who must have a place to live? Many families are now in Janesville that can be provided with comfortable living quarters.

Russian Bolsheviks are living up to their reputations. They have been engaged in the pastime of killing innocent clergymen.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, March 10, 1878.—"Two of Beloit's dashing young men came to this city yesterday. One carried home a black eye and the other a badly mussed suit of clothes. Too much 'bulge' is the alleged cause of the difference in the appearance of the young men when they left Beloit and when they arrived in Beloit Sunday is a bad day for sight-seeing."

Rock Sun gives Janesville's new marshal a send-off in characteristic style, and every tramp should read and ponder carefully. It is as follows: "We are looking for a sensation from Janesville. Alex Russel, a one-armed soldier, has been appointed a marshal. He is one of the most innocent, inoffensive looking men in the world, and seems to shrink from violent contact with men. Some day a party of tramps will see that one armed marshal, and they will wink at one another and go to clean him up. In the case there will be a series of pauper funerals in Janesville that will occur on the same day and strangers will think there is an epidemic there. There will be an epidemic. His name will be Alex Russel. If he gets excited and begins to wiggle the stub of one arm, and play around the tramps with it, then they will think that Beloit's marshal is having a field day."

Mr. Norris has received an appointment in the railway postal service, his run to be from Harvard to Watertown. The appointment was a complete surprise to him as he had no inkling of what his friends were doing in his behalf, until he received a letter today from Congressman Williams informing him of the fact and stating that the official document would be sent at once.

Students Threaten Strike.

La Crosse, March 10.—Some of the basketball students supporters of the La Crosse Normal school stand ready to walk out in defense of the authorities unless six students, suspended today, are reinstated. President Cotton is in his stand that the offenders are alleged ringleaders in the basketball championship celebration last week, will be punished. The students claim that a state championship is worthy of a half day holiday and the faculty insists that the students shall not run the school.

Stop Itching Eczema.

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying Zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment Zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimpls, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use Zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not greasy and does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

FLORENCE SMILEY WINS FIRST PLACE FOR HISTORY ESSAY

JANESEVILLE's record in the war was brought to the attention of the pupils of the public schools by the offer of prizes by the Women's History club for best essays on that subject from the children of the eighth grade. Mrs. Frank Blodgett has been chairman of the committee having the matter in charge, and a report was given the organization at a meeting held Saturday afternoon at the library.

Florence Smiley of the Jefferson school receives the first prize of $10. Mary Louise Strimpel of the Adams school receives honorable mention for the second best paper, and John Holmes of the Jefferson school honorable mention for the third best paper by Florence. There will be special mention for the superior permanence of the composition. All three papers will be filed with the War History records in the files now being made by the Rock County War History commission.

All the young people taking part in the contest, it was stated by Mrs. Blodgett, were to be congratulated on their well written patriotic efforts.

The Women's History class is doing splendid work in assisting the commission in compiling the war record of every soldier and sailor who went from Rock County into the service. Also the war activities of every club and organization in the draft district is being listed and material and information concerning the same is being collected for reference. This plan of having a contest among the pupils originated in the organization of the Women's History class, that the services of the children might be enlisted in gathering along the lines of war work.

They offered a prize of $10 in War Savings Stamps for the best paper of 500 words on the subject, "Jane'sville's Record in the War." A large number wrote on the subject and really meritorious work was done along the line.

INTERURBAN TRAFFIC RESUMED AFTER FIRE

Two poles destroyed by fire near Yost Park last evening completely tied up traffic on the Rockford Interurban. Traffic was halted at nine o'clock last evening and was resumed until ten o'clock this morning.

Crossed wires is said to be responsible for the fire and it was impossible to operate the cars until the two poles had been replaced. The first car left this city for Rockford at ten o'clock this morning.

Passengers bound for Beloit and Rockford were forced to wait in JANESEVILLE overnight on Sunday and nearly 100 soldiers were stalled and unable to reach camp for taps last evening.

OBITUARY

Mrs. James Burke.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. James Burke, nee Micka, who passed away in Chicago will be held from Ryan's undertaking rooms Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The body arrived in the city this afternoon from Chicago.

Mrs. Burke was formerly a resident of JANESEVILLE. She leaves to mourn her death a devoted husband, mother and fatherless three sons, George, Perkins, Chicago, and three brothers, Clarence and Clayton Micka, Chicago, and Henry R. Micka, Madison.

Edward J. McCue

Edward J. McCue passed away suddenly at his home, 176 South Franklin street at three-thirty o'clock Saturday afternoon, after an illness of a few days. He had been in good health up until Saturday morning when he became unconscious from a clot on his brain. He never regained consciousness.

Mr. McCue spent most of his life in this city, having been employed by the Shurleff company for the past ten years. His pleasing disposition won friends for him as a member of St. Joseph's court, Catholic Order of Foresters, the Moose Lodge, and the Engineers.

Deceased is survived by his wife, two children, Raymond and Marle, four brothers, John of this city, Michael and Timothy, Chicago; Lawrence, Milwaukee and one sister, Mrs. Alfred Jerry of this city.

The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning with interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. Martha A. Mayford.

Mrs. Martha A. Mayford passed away at her home, 621 North Chatham street at two-thirty Sunday afternoon, an illness of a year's duration. She was 75 years of age.

Decedent was born in New York in 1844 and came west several years later. She lived in Whitewater for some time, coming to JANESEVILLE in 1882. Her husband died in 1890.

She is survived by two sons, Fred of this city, and Cecil, Beloit.

The funeral will be held from the late home Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The body will be shipped to Whitewater for interment.

Mrs. Maria Johnston Wood.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Maria Johnston Wood were held from Trinity Episcopal church yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Henry Willmann officiating. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were: W. F. Tallman, George Richards, Bert Schieler, E. F. Kneipp, Harry Garbutt and James Waddele.

He is survived by his wife, daughter, and four grand-children. His wife is the sister of Mrs. Thomas S. Nolan of this city.

The funeral and interment will be held at Los Angeles.

Lieut. Bleasdale Sends Father An Iron Cross

Lieut. Victor Bleasdale recently sent to his father, John Bleasdale of this city, an iron cross captured from a German officer. The cross is different from the ones given to the privates in the German army in that it is bordered by a band of silver, and hangs from a black and gray ribbon. Lieut. Bleasdale in his letter sent with the cross playfully refers to it as a "crucifix" taken from a "Herr officer." Mr. Bleasdale along with the medal also received other souvenirs.

Raymond Pierson and Helen Watson are Early Birds in Gazette's Robin Contest

The early birds have captured the kodaks.

Raymond Pierson, Jr., 402 North High street, and Helen Watson, Edgerton, R. F. D. 5, tied for the honors.

Each will be given a kodak by the Gazette for the first stories received in the robin contest. The kodaks will be sent to the prize winners within a few days. Then watch for the pictures of birds they are going to take to be published.

The two stories were prepared at about the same time. Raymond's story reached the Bird Club editor first, but to give the out-of-town contestants a fair chance, the Gazette has awarded two prizes.

The bird contest, in which official bird books will be given for the 15 best stories of about 100 words written on either the birds which are coming back for the summer or any unusual birds found in this vicinity, is now open.

This contest will close March 31. Stories on the blue birds, meadow larks, and robins have already been received. They are coming in on every mail.

The stories of the prize winners will be published in the Gazette. The contest is open to all children under 12 years of age. Each story should be accompanied by the statement of an older person verifying the facts.

In addition to the awarding of prizes, all who submit stories will be enrolled in the Gazette Bird club.

Other boys and girls of any age who are interested in the bird club, become members of the bird club by filling out the membership blank below and mailing it to the Gazette.

Bird lectures, and hikes out into the woods will be given for all those who want to know more about bird life as the weather will permit.

"MOTHERS FIRST IN THOUGHTS OF YANKS" DECLARIES COLLIE

"Homes will be more appreciated by the American boys when they return from France," Dean George Collie, of Beloit college said yesterday afternoon when addressing the Sunday afternoon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Dean Collie has recently returned from France.

The colored youth recently attacked a negro woman, Mrs. Una Smith, in Beloit and slapped her seven times in an effort to get her to go with him.

"American boys returning from overseas will be entirely different," he remarked.

"Mothers and sisters are always uttermost in the thoughts of the doughboys and when the boys went over the top they always said that they were going over to enable their mothers and sisters to have a peaceful place to live in."

"I never saw a better lot of soldiers anywhere, and the people of the United States can be justly proud of the boys they sent overseas to uphold the righteous cause."

Edgerton News

CLINTON NEWS

Edgerton, March 10.—George Woodruff, Janesville, was in the city Saturday in the interests of the $1,000 bond issue that will be voted upon at the April election. Mr. Woodruff interviewed members of the council and was well impressed with the reception he received. He stated that a mass meeting would be held in the city in the near future and a good speaker would be selected to put the proposition to the people of Edgerton. Later in the day he made the trip overland to Janesville and was surprised to see the bad condition of the roads. The city of Edgerton has made arrangements to have the approaches to the city put in good shape the coming year. West Fulton street is on the stone cement pavement to the city limits. North Main street will be uprooted, graded and rolled and the Stoughton road will undergo a like treatment. As these last two streets have a solid foundation they can be made good streets at nominal cost.

County Board Commissioner C. E. Moore has consented to have the work done on these streets under his supervision and they will be put in shape at an early date. When the trunk lines are completed into the city it is planned to have these streets cement to correspond.

A number of overseas Edgerton men arrived in the city Saturday evening from Camp Grant. Some of the boys have been discharged and some are home on furlough. Among those arriving home were Alfred Jensen, Edwin Schottfeld, Gale Osgan, Harold Dowe, John McDonough, Alfred Teisberg, John Strauss and Leonard Murkve.

Mrs. F. Quigley and daughter, were well and visitors at the home of her parents at Belvidere, Ill.

Mrs. Alfred Thompson was a Sunday day visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Greenwood.

Arthur Shannon, Fortage, was in the local tobacco market Saturday.

Frank Farman, Stoughton, called at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Furman, last evening.

Mr. Milton Stoughton, spent Sunday at the home of his son, C. S. Milton.

There will be a meeting of the K. P. lodge this evening. There will be work in the rank of Esquire and a large attendance is desired.

Unanimously approved by the entire Press of New York and Chicago

It is a play about human beings—familiar everyday men and women—Not stage puppets!—It will make you laugh—it will make you weep—it will make you think—it has the laughs of "Potash" and "Perlmutter" and the tears of "The Music Master." THE TONIC OF SYMPATHY. Lucy Barton's eyes widened as she repeated slowly, "I'm with you, Lucy, you and your kind. I'm a rebel, I must do things in my own way. Janet doesn't understand why I'm not willing to alter my story to suit Nicoll and his half million subscribers! She doesn't mean to be fault-finding, Lucy. It's just that to her the stories we print are mere trifles, little more than gossip. Why, I wouldn't tell my name to a story of the papal, sugary kind he demands. I couldn't."

"There, there, dear old chap, you needn't bother to tell me," soothed Lucy, taking rapid note of Walt's wrought nerves and longing for easily to ease them. "You speak of 'me and my kind.' Well, my kind are the kind who have sweetened and bled as we are doing for the sake of the best in them! Look at Olga Carol freezing to death all last winter in her stovetless studio, hammering away at her little has-reliefs and figurines that conventional people sneered at and insisted were 'ugly' and 'absurd.' Look at Olga now—prosperous as an ammunition maker. Her friends are sold everywhere and can't keep up with her orders for the has-reliefs."

"And there's Hugo Lantry. Remember Hugo's three-boro overcoat and how the girls used to mind it surreptitiously and put sandwiches in the pockets? Know what Hugo's doing now? Well, he's producing his own comedies at the Peacock Playhouse, making good lit anything and looking like a million! Now how her name is trite, with cheering Walt, how his face lit up his shoulders straightened. She went on briskly. "Look at me! Did you know I landed a cover on last month's 'Zephyr'? Well, sir, I did, and I've got an order this month right here in my bag for $300 worth of title-page decorations for 'Ambition's!' And didn't body call it a fail for not taking that at twenty-five a week designing soap wrappers?"

"I tell you, Walt, it pays to stick to your ideals. Sometimes it only pays in satisfaction to yourself. And sometimes it pays in honest-to-goodness cash. You stick around with our crowd for a while. The atmosphere'll put the punch into you. Your trouble is that you're working against too much pressure from the outside. I

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Is it right for a girl to fill a hope chest before she gets married?

(2) When I have an argument with the young man to whom I am engaged, I cry. Please tell me how to act instead of crying. He tells me after arguing that he is testing my temper.

(3) He is very jealous of me and does not want me to go to any young man or to go out with girls. Should I do as he says? I have already done what he told me to, for I love him.

(4) How many times is it right for him to call on me a week?

MISS WORRY.

(1) It is all right for a girl to start a hope chest at any time. After she becomes engaged she calls it her dower chest.

(2) You must try not to argue. It is unkind of the mind to test your temper. His answer to you should mind him to keep you happy instead of in tears. If he continues to distract your peace of mind, do not marry him, because he will never make you happy.

(3) Do what you think is right. He is very selfish in asking you to give up your former friends. You need the friendships of girls just as much as you ever did, and you should be trusted enough to carry on conversations with boys and men.

(4) He should not call oftener than every other night. I am not trying to make you dissatisfied. I want you to marry with open eyes so that you will be happy afterward.

THANK YOU.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you kindly tell me what would be nice to serve for an informal Sunday evening supper?

I want a little luncheon that can be easily got up without the bother of preparing it beforehand.

THANK YOU.

2. Serve banana salad, bread and butter, tea and bought cake.

TONSIL, TEETH & COMPANY

Doctor Oster, bless his good honest soul, mentions in his "bible" that certain slumberous or quiet maladies, as tuberculosis, or syphilis, may be lighted into activity by vaccination. On the other hand, the development of a comparatively trifling infectious disease (cowpox or vaccination in this instance) in one who recently had some other infectious disease may aggravate the pre-existing disease. The same thing is sometimes observed in a young victim of tuberculosis who happens to contract measles or acute tonsillitis.

Low grade chronic infections of the nose or throat are well known to postpone or prevent the recovery of persons with tuberculosis, syphilis, or other chronic infectious disease. Even chronic furunculosis (recurring crops of large pimples or boils) often persists until an abscess of the tonsil or in infected tooth is eradicated.

At the old, old focal infection theory, still determined that every invalid shall lose his teeth and tonsils.

Given one or two infected tonsils and a state of uncertainty whether to remove them or not, and also one or more infected teeth, and a similar state of doubt as to surgical relief. What is to be done?

Perhaps eradicating the infection from the mouth will bring about a marked improvement and complete recovery from the trouble in the tonsils. At any rate, the diseased mouth requires proper dental treatment—the teeth are not necessarily doomed, for the dentist may be able to overcome the infection about the roots by con-

Marquette, March 10.—In addressing the Women's club here, Miss Gertrude Davis, volunteer nurse at the Marquette orthopedic hospital, said: "During the war, she said, that one day after the beginning of the long range bombardment she saw two little children alone crying on the street. She escorted them to a nearby store and found that the boy, 4 years old, had one hand cut off by the Germans and the little girl, 2 years old, had lost four fingers on one hand and the other hand entirely in the same way."

Vegetable Soup.—Dice the desired number of carrots and potatoes. Boil until tender. Then add one bouillon cube for each bowl of soup desired; season and serve with croutons.

Red Apple Salad.—Peel and core medium sized apples and boil in syrup or water, sugar and tiny red cinnamon candies. Cook until apples are soft, then cook slowly so that apples will stay whole; remove from syrup; fill centers with chopped radish and nuts; serve on a lettuce leaf with mayonnaise or whipped cream.

Cottage Meat Pie.—Cut beefsteak in pieces, two inches square; rub pan with fat and fry meat on both sides; place beef in casserole and add one cup of carrots, tomatoes, any other cooked vegetables desired and a thin layer of mashed potatoes to cover; put them over stove and place in oven until potatoes become brown.

Quick Coffee Cake.—Cream three-quarters of a cup of sugar and one-quarter cup butter, add one egg (beaten); add one-half cup milk and two cups flour and two teaspoons baking powder; sifted; pour in the beaten butter and sugar and mix well. Cream shortening and sugar, together, add well-beaten egg, then milk and sifted flour, baking powder, salt and flavoring; alternately. Mix well. Bake in the pan that has been greased and dusted with flour. Bake 50 minutes or bake in two layer pans 20 minutes. Put together with jelly or jam. Sprinkle top with sugar.

DISCOVERIES.

It Would Have Done No Good Simply to Antagonize.

Afterwards I was angry at myself for doing so. Yet I might have simply antagonized the women and made them more set. And what would have been the good of that?

It seems to me, to answer my own opening question, that in making up one's mind whether to speak or not to speak, one should be governed largely by whether one thinks one can do any good or not.

"Of course, one doesn't want to be a prig, but on the other hand one doesn't want to be a hypocrite and coward, never willing to express convictions or opposition lest it make one unpopular.

"What can I do for you, Mrs. —?"

"You see, Mr. Bones, I am quite perplexed. There seems to be great many thefts in my home within the last week or so. I missed an oil can, several articles of clothing from the clothesline, a broom, all our clothespins; and only yesterday a bucket disappeared, a tennis racket today and a tin bread-box."

"Wait a moment, madam. Ah—yes, I'm a medium. You keep a goat?"

"Yes, but—how did you know?"

"Why, yes; how did you know?"

"It's—that's my business. Get rid of the goat." Twenty dollars for advice, please."

CHAPTER I.

Sent Into Servitude.

Knowing this to be a narrative of unusual adventure, and one which may never even be read until long after I have departed from this world, when it will be difficult to convince readers that such times as are herein depicted could ever have been reality, I shall endeavor to narrate each incident in the simplest manner possible. My only purpose is truth, and my only witness history. Yet, even now lately as this all happened, it is more like the recollections of a dream, dimly remembered at awakening, and, perchance, might remain so, but for the scars upon my body, and the constant memory of a woman's face. These alone combine to bring back in vividness those days that were—days of youth and daring, of desperate, lawless war, of wide ocean peril, and the outstretched hands of love. So that here, where I am writing it all down, here amid quietness and peace, and forgetful of the past, I wander again along a deserted shore, and sail among those isles of a southern sea, the home for many a century of crime and unspeakable cruelty. I will recall the scene, and can do no more.

It was still early morning when we were brought out under heavy guard and marched somberly forth through the opened gates of the jail. Ahead we could perceive a forest of masts, and what seemed like a vast crowd of waiting people. That we had been sentenced to exile, to prolonged servitude in some foreign land, was all that any of us knew.

The guards prodded the crowd savagely with the butts of their muskets, thus making scant room for us to shuffle through, out upon the far end of the wharf, where we were finally halted abreast of a lumping brig, apparently nearly ready for sea. There were more than forty of us. I gained glimpse of the hooker's name—Kromping Betsy of Plymouth. A moment later a sailor passed along the edge of the dock and instantly a whisper passed swiftly from man to man: "It's Virginia, mate; we're bound for Virginia!"

The eyes of a prisoner met mine. "Virginia, hey?" he grunted. "You're a sailor, ain't ye, mate? Well, then, whar is this yere Virginia?"

"That's all right, mates," I returned cheerily. "We'll fall into the hands of Englishmen out there. In America, where all the tobacco comes from, I've been there twice—and to a land beyond they call Maryland. 'Tis a country not so unlike England."

"Yer better stow that, my man," growled someone above me, and I looked up into the stern eyes of the captain of the guard, "or it may be the 'cat' for ye. So've been ter the Virginia plantation, hey ye? Then ye must be Master Carlyle. I take it I heard tell about ye at the trial, but supposed ye ter be an older man."

"I am twenty-six."

"Ye don't look even that. Ay, they're ready for ye now. Fall in there—all of ye. Step along, yer d—d rebel scum."

I stared aft at the poop deck. There were a number of persons gathered along the low rail, probably all passengers. Then my eyes encountered a strange group foregathered beside the

Many School Children are Sickly

Mothers who value their own comfort and the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother's Olive Tablets. Children are sick throughout the season. They break up Colds, Relieve Feverishness, Constipation, Teething Disorders, Headache and stomach Troubles. Used by mothers for over 30 years. THESE TABLETS ARE EFFICACIOUS. All Drug Stores. Don't accept any substitute.

WHY COUGH AND COUGH AND COUGH?

Dr. King's New Discovery removes the danger of neglect

Coughing until the parched throat grows painful should not be permitted. It should be relieved before it gains headway with a dose of Dr. King's New Discovery.

The same with a cold or bronchial attack. Millions have used this well-known remedy for half a century regularly without thought of change.

Sold by druggists since 1869. An all-important adjunct to any family medicine cabinet. 60c and $1.20.

The Burden of Constipation is lifted, comfortably but positively, when you treat your bowels with Dr. King's New Life Pills. The liver gets busy, digestion improves, the sickly, sallow skin is freed from bile. Get a bottle today—start the day right.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

CHAPTER II.

The Prison Ship.

PETEY DINK—PETEY'S WIFE EVIDENTLY THOUGHT IT WAS TO BE A "STILL."

describe it in any detail—the foul smells, the discomfort, the ceaseless horror of food, the close companionship of men turned into mere animals by suffering and distress, the wear-some days, the black, sleepless nights, the poisonous air, and the brutality of guards. I can never forget these things, for they have scarred my soul.

The hatch above remained open, but carefully guarded night and day, while we were permitted on deck for air and exercise only in squads of ten, two hours out of every twenty-four. This alone served to break the dread monotony of the voyage. From our exercise on deck we generally returned heavily drenched to the skin, but glad to even pay that price for two hours of fresh air, and an opportunity to gaze about at sea and sky. We were herded well forward, a rope dividing us from the main deck, which space the passengers oft used as promenade. There were only three women aboard. There was a low chair near the piano and he took it, leaning forward, his hands clasped about his knees. It had been the life-long dream of this simple-hearted officer that one day he would speak but his soul to the woman he loved. The time had come. She sat before him in her unpretentious dress. He was not worldly enough to know it cost a great price, nor to appreciate that she wore no jewels—nothing except the flowers he had sent. Her dark hair was clustered about her ears and her beautiful eyes lost their fire in tenderness. "When a man has been very close to death, Mademoiselle, he looks about for the reason of his resurrection. When he returns to the world, he looks to see what there is in this life to make it worth living. I am young—at the beginning of my career. I may have before me a long life in which, with health and friends, I may find much happiness. These things certainly have their worth to a normal man—but I cannot make them real before my eyes just yet. As I look upon the world to which I have returned, I see nothing but a woman and her love. If I cannot win her for my wife, if I cannot have her love—He made an expressive gesture which more impressively than words implied how completely he laid down everything else to her love and his.

"What er ye stādin' thar fer?" he demanded savagely. "Go on down—lively now!"

shall not thank Tremont for bringing me back from Africa."

The American girl listened to him with profound emotion. She discovered every second how well she understood him, and he had much to say, because it was the first time he had ever spoken to her of his love. She had put out both her hands and, looking at him fully, said simply:

"Why it seems to me you must know how I feel—how can you help knowing how I feel?"

After a little he told her of Normandy, and how he had spent his childhood and boyhood in the chateau overlooking the wide sea, told her how he had watched the ships and used to dream of the countries beyond the horizon, and how the apple blossoms filled the orchards in the spring. He told her how he longed to go back, and that his wandering life had made it impossible for years.

Julia whispered: "We shall go there in the spring, my friend."

He was charming as he sat there holding her hands closely, his fine eyes bent upon her. Sabron told her things that had been deep in his heart and mind, waiting for her to hear so many months. Finally, everything merged into his present life, and the beauty of what he said dazed her like an enchanted sea. He was a soldier, a man of action, yet a dreamer. The fact that his hopes were about to be realized made him tremble, and as he talked, everything took light from this victory. Even his house in Normandy began to seem a fitting setting for the beautiful American.

He said, not without a certain dignity: "I am quite poor: I have only my soldier's pay. In Normandy I own a little property. It is upon a hill and looks over the sea, with apple orchards and wheat fields. There is a house. These are my landed estates. My manhood and my love are my fortune. If you cannot return my love I cannot return your love."

"We shall go there in the spring," she whispered.

Sabron stopped speaking, his reverie was done, and he was silent as the intensity of his love for her eyes.

Pitchoune had become de trop.

He was discreet. With sympathetic eyes he gazed on his beloved master

Ugly, Unsightly Pimples Are Signals of Bad Blood

Give Heed to the Warning.

Pimples on the face and other parts of the body are warnings from Nature that your blood is sluggish and impoverished. Sometimes they form acne, boils, blisters, scaly eruptions and other skin disorders that burn like flames of fire.

They mean that your blood needs S. S. S. to purify it and cleanse it of these impure accumulations that can cause unlimited trouble. This remedy is the greatest vegetable blood purifier known, and contains no minerals or chemicals to injure the most delicate skin.

Go to your drugstore, and get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and get rid of those unsightly and disfiguring pimples, and other skin irritations. And it will cleanse your blood thoroughly. If you wish special medical advice, you can obtain it without charge by writing to Medical Director, 29 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

surged over him. He lit her delicate hands to his lips. "It is April now," he said, and his voice shook, "it is spring now, my love."

At Julia's side was a slight touch. She cried: "Pitchoune!" He put his paws on her knees and looked up into her face.

"Brunet has brought him here," said Sabron, "and that means the good chap is attending to his own make-making."

Julia laid her hand on Pitchoune's head. "He will love the Normandy beach, Charles."

"He will love the forests," said Sabron; "there are rabbits there."

On the little dog's head the two hands met and clasped. "Pitchoune is the only one in the world who is not de trop," said Julia gently.

Pitchoune, lifting her hands again to his lips, kissed it long, looking into her eyes. Between that great mystery of the awakening to be fulfilled, they drew near to each other—nearer.

Pitchoune sat before them, waiting. No one noticed him. He gave a short bark that apparently disturbed no one.

Pitchoune had become de trop.

He was discreet. With sympathetic eyes he gazed on his beloved master

THE END.

Optimistic Thought.
Social intercourse is the teacher of life to mortals.

You'll Spend the Money Get the Most Out Of It

Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat, house furnishings, garden seeds and tools and what not.

There's one sure way to get the most for your money. Know what you want before you go to buy.

Read Advertisements. The advertisements you read will tell you what is new and good. They will give you the latest ideas and improvements. They will help you to live better and dress better at less cost.

If you think of it, you'll be surprised at the world of interest and the wealth of new ideas you'll find in reading advertisements.

Advertisements are the daily record of progress. They are the report to you of the manufacturers and merchants who work for you, telling what has been accomplished for your benefit.

SPORTS

WATERLOO FIVE COPS
TOURNAMENT HONORS;
EVANSVILLE SECOND

Waterloo high school's basketball five carried off honors in the Waterloo tournament by winning over the fast Evansville quintet, 11 to 6, in the final game. Saturday night, Fort Dodge topped third place by defeating Delavan 13 to 11. The local basketeers failed to show what was expected of them, losing a hot game to the Fort five in the afternoon, 23 to 18. They returned home on the afternoon train.

The two exciting contests Saturday night brought to a close one of the most successful basketball tournaments ever staged at Waterloo. The attendance was large at all games. Every team was treated fairly and squarely by competent officials who, though they were very strict on fouls, sped up the games and helped to make every contest exciting.

Delavan Men Injured
Only one incident marred the success of the tourney. That was an automobile accident near the gym early Saturday evening in which two Delavan players were injured and several others were cut. Don Campbell, a year old star lately discharged from aviation service, sustained a serious broken leg, while Brooks, fast forward, was cut about the face and badly beaten up. Brooks played the entire game but it was evident that he was in poor condition.

Outplaying the long gearing Waterloo players three-quarters of the game, Evansville suffered its usual hard luck and lost the game in the last 3 minutes of play. The City bunch led by a 4 to 5 score when their opponents by a series of three horseshoe baskets ran their score up to 11 points.

Evansville entered the fray with a badly crippled line-up. Tolles, the pivot man, should never have been on the game while three of his comrades were ill with colds and had to get out of bed to play. Despite their poor condition they battled like mad men, outgearing and outplaying their tall opponents. After playing a great game, Tolles suffered a serious injury in the second period and had to be carried off the floor. This took the heart out of the Evansville speedsters but they fought hard to the finish.

The game was probably the fastest one of the tournament. Close guarding and fast teamwork made the contest an exciting one to watch. Tolles opened the scoring by counting four free throws in quick succession. Baird's basket boosted the score to 6 points. Waterloo piled up to 5 points in the first half and held Evansville scoreless in the second period, at the same time scoring three more times from the field, ending the game 11 to 6.

Each team was cheered by a loyal bunch of rooters and enthusiasm ran high throughout the game. The strong defense game put up by the two Evansville guards, Baird and Stewart, and the speedy teamwork of Hubbard, Lee and Tolles were the features of the game.

Fort Gens Third Place
In the preliminary game, Delavan's bunged up team and the crack Fort Atkinson five, staged a red hot fight for third place. The lake city bunch opened with a roar and piled up 8 points before the northerners awoke from their sleep and furnished some opposition. The Fort uncovered some flashy work and counted twice in the first period.

Delavan slackened up a little at the opening of the second frame and allowed the Fort to run its score up to 13 points, to 11 for Delavan.

Gold watch fobs were presented to members of the Waterloo five, silver fobs to the Evansville men, and bronze ones to the Fort tossers.

By virtue of winning the tournament, Waterloo will enter the state meet at Eau Claire, next week.

CARDS WILL BATTLE
BELoit ON MARCH 20

Who will oppose the Cardinals next? This question has been asked several times in the past few days and the management has announced that in view to the absence of the team this week it will be impossible to play a game until Saturday evening.

Accompanied by several fans the Lakota quintet left for Chicago this morning where they will participate in the Central A. A. U. tournament starting this afternoon. The Cards will play their first game Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock against the Third Regiment of Fort Smith.

Every effort will be made to arrange for a game to be played in this city on Saturday and if possible one of the strong teams entered in the tournament will be brought to Janesville.

The fast New London team which defeated Camp Grant by the score of 52 to 20 is entered in the meet and efforts will be made to have them come to Janesville for a game this week.

If New London is unable to get here the Watertown Orvis will be offered a game although they have twice refused this season to play the Cardinals. The Orvis are perfectly willing to play at Whiting but they are loath to leave their home door.

With the same team that defeated Beloit here last week, the Cardinals will enter the A. A. U. meet and if done runs true to form they should be in the battle at the finish. Seventeen of the best teams in the country are entered this season and it will be no disgrace for the Cardinals to be defeated.

Captain Victor Flemming was unable to make the trip to Chicago with the team owing to the pressure of

WISCONSIN DEFEATS
CHICAGO, CINCHING
FLAG FOR GOPHERS

Chicago's slimming hopes for a chance at the Big Ten championship were completely snuffed out by Wisconsin after last sum Saturday night. Led by Clarence McIntosh, Edgerton and Mike Knapp the Badgers waded through to a 25 to 15 victory ending Chicago's season and Bill Goren's conference career in a cloud of gloom.

Using a five man offensive with fast short passes Wisconsin had the Midway gang running in circles. In last game counted 5 baskets while Knapp dropped in 4 goals and 5 free throws. The victory left the trailing Badgers in second place while Chicago is holding down the second berth. Minnesota has the bunting cinched.

Iowa spring a sensation Saturday by defeating Northwestern 28 to 12. The Hawkeyes upset all dope in the first half when they led by a 20 to 3 score.

Michigan continued its string of wins by staging a rally in the last half which gave a victory over Ohio State, 23 to 20. Ohio led at the intermission 13 to 7.

Recent estimates place the number of golfers in Canada at 75,000.

New York, March 10.—Christy Mathewson is a Giant again. He has accepted Manager McGraw's offer of a berth as coach and assistant manager. It is said today that he will be groomed as McGraw's successor as field leader of the club.

"Home-run" Baker May Wear Yankee Uniform

New York, March 10.—Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees, returned here today from Trappe, Md.

CONGOS MAINTAIN
LEAD IN LEAGUE

By winning seven games and losing one, the members of the Congregational bowling team maintain the lead in the church bowling league. They are leading by one and on half games but are being hard pushed by the Baptists.

The standing as figured on the last games is:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Congregational	7	1	.875
Baptists	6	2	.714
Methodist	5	3	.625
Christian	5	4	.600
Lutheran	4	5	.444
Episcopal	2	5	.286
Presbyterian	1	9	.111

SPORT NOTES

Business men of Havana have made a proposition to the world's champion basketball team to drop over to Cuba from their Florida camp and play a series of games against the Cuban teams. A guarantee is offered and the management accept.

Hugh Miller, one of the well-known ball players wounded in the war, plans to run for alderman in his town. Evidently Hugh hasn't had enough excitement.

Chicago horsemen are campaigning to make the racing game there.

Eight states now have physical education laws. They are Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Nevada, Maryland, California and Delaware.

Recent estimates place the number of golfers in Canada at 75,000.

New York, March 10.—Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees, returned here today from Trappe, Md.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, March 8.—Several school teachers from this section of the county went to Madison, Friday to attend the teachers meeting.

Burr Pankhurst is much improved and his friends are quite sanguine of his recovery.

Medallion Georgia, Turner and Ora Lee, Janesville, were in the village visiting with friends on Saturday.

Peter Nelson has purchased the Belle Mybre farm. This farm was sold once before this spring but later the deal was declared off.

Rev. M. A. Drew returned from a visit with his son at Madison, Thursday evening.

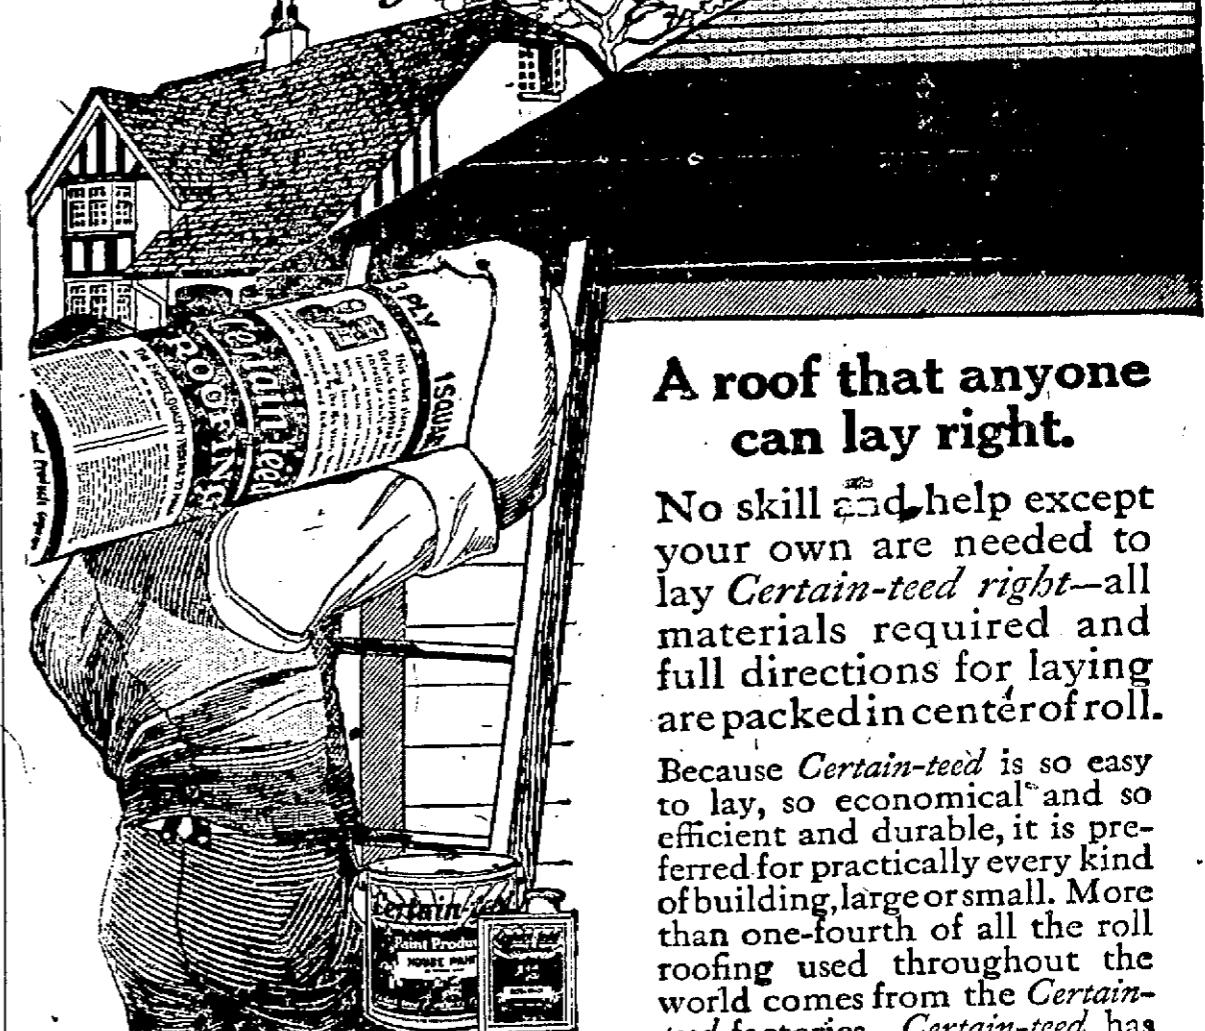

Albert Gilbertson will move onto the old homestead in a few days. Peter Nelson who has worked the place for a number of years will move onto the farm which he recently purchased.

Mike Vigdahl has moved his family into rooms in the Mary Long house and will make that his home for the time being.

Certain-teed

Roofing and Shingles

A roof that anyone can lay right.

No skill and help except your own are needed to lay Certain-teed right—all materials required and full directions for laying are packed in center of roll.

Because Certain-teed is so easy to lay, so economical and so efficient and durable, it is preferred for practically every kind of building, large or small. More than one-fourth of all the roll roofing used throughout the world comes from the Certain-teed factories. Certain-teed has become the dominant choice. Everybody knows about Certain-teed. It is used for buildings of every size and type—for factories, warehouses, garages, stores, hotels, office buildings, farm buildings, round houses, etc.

In shingle form, red or green, it is widely used for residences. Certain-teed gives years of efficient service with practically no cost for up-keep. It is immune to almost every form of roofing attack. It is rust proof, spark proof, weather proof, waterproof, and is not affected by acids, fumes or gases. The sun's heat cannot make it melt or run. Sold by dealers everywhere.

Guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years according to thickness.
